ARMY NOTES

The medical staff of the Hawaiian Department is soon to be increased by one lieutenant-colonel, six major-doctors and eight surgeons of the rank of captain or lieutenant. Fifteen new medics will be a big help to the present staff, especially at the department hospital and the Schofield post hospital, which are short-handed.

There is considerable speculation as to how the new medical officers will be apportioned, especially those of higher rank. While no official announcement has been made, it is understood that there will be one lieutenant-colonel stationed at army headquarters as sanitary inspector of the department. One major will likely be sent to Fort Ruger as chief surgeon of the coast defenses, and one to Fort Shafter, assigned to the 2d Infantry. Then, the office of medical supply officer and disbursing officer of medical funds will probably be given to one of the new majors. This is a new position in this department, although the value of the medical stores and the amount of money involved makes it highly desirable that one officer give his entire time to this administrative work.

Another major at the department hospital, and two more at Schofield would account for the balance of the field officers.

Poor shooting conditions at Fort Shafter yesterday caused the downfall of many good shots in the 1st Infantry, N. G. H., now firing for record. A strong wind blew all day, and at times the gusts made it almost impossible to hold steady. Out of 40 men firing, not a single expert rifleman was made. A large number of men who are shooting way below form this year have holdover qualifications, so that failure to make the higher grades does not represent such hard luck as might otherwise be the case.

Pvt. First Class Edward Kendrick, Hospital Corps, on duty at the Alakea Dispensary, this city, will proceed on the next available transport to Fort McDowell, Cal., reporting upon arrival to the commanding officer, for discharge upon expiration of term of service.

JAPANESE IN HAWAII CRITICISED BY SHIGA

That Hawaii is a striking example of the ruinous over-sea expansion of the Japanese, and that the Japanese although the greatest in number in Hawaii have done less for the islands than any other race, is the charge made by Professor Shiga of the Waseda University, Japan. Professor Shiga points out that the Japanese ideal is to get the money out of a place and put as little into it as possible, and urges a change in the attitude of the Japanese in foreign countries.

counts of Mr. Brown have been referred to John Marcellino, master.

Stipulations were filed in circuit court today giving the defendant in the following cases until July 1 to answer and otherwise plead to the complaints: Lewers & Cooke vs. Joseph Fernandez, Honolulu Planing Mill vs. Joseph Fernandez and J. B. Enos vs. Joseph Fernandez. All are actions to enforce materialman's lien.

Owing to the absence of Attorney M. F. Prosser, one of the counsel for the defendants, the work of drawing a jury to try the replevin case of Fred Makino against C. H. Atherton, William Henry, high sheriff, et al, will not be commenced until next Monday morning at 10 o'clock. The taking of evidence will begin July 15. The case will be heard before Circuit Judge Stuart.

CHATER-CARTER DECISION HERE NOW AFFIRMED

Supreme Court in Washington Ends Suit Arising From Hartwell Estate

[Special Star-Bulletin Cable]
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 21.—The supreme court today handed down a decision affirming with costs the lower court decision in Hawaii in the Chater-Carter case.

C. S. ALBERT.

The Chater-Carter case is of considerable local interest. The late Chief Justice Hartwell during his life put valuable sugar stocks in trust for Mrs. Chater, a married daughter living in Boston. On her death some years ago the question arose whether the stock went to her family or came to Judge Hartwell on the theory that she had only a life interest. The matter was referred to the local courts on agreed facts, the Chater family bringing the suit against Alfred W. Carter as executor of the Hartwell estate. Judge Hartwell having died, the Hartwell estate won out. The firm of Prosser, Anderson & Marx, now Frear, Prosser, Anderson & Marx, represented the estate and Castle & Withington the Chater family. From the Hawaiian courts the case was appealed to the supreme court in Washington and Attorney Robbins B. Anderson, representing the Hartwell estate, went on to Washington in April and argued the case before the supreme bench. Attorney D. L. Withington and a Boston lawyer appeared for the Chaters. The cablegram that the decision of the lower court had been upheld after his argument was presented came as pleasant news, therefore, to Attorney Anderson today.

It has been understood that this case would be the last Hawaiian matter taken up by the supreme court except appeals on constitutional questions, under the act of the last Congress referring most appeal cases from Hawaii to the appellate court in San Francisco but it was said today that one or two others are to be heard in Washington.

Lloyd Smith, whose auto driven by him to a lua in upper Manoa valley was alleged to have been taken by Solomon Kupahu, a Hawaiian boy, declined to prosecute the case when it was called at district court this morning. Smith and Albert H. Lucas left the machine standing on the side of the road while they attended the festivities. A few hours later they learned the car had been driven away. The automobile was found near the Robert Shingle home in Makiki. Young Kupahu was in a penitent mood when confronted with the misdemeanor. A settlement for damage done the car had been arranged.
